Eklavya Model Residential School (EMRS)

The Ministry of Tribal Affairs launched the Eklavya Model Residential School (EMRS) scheme in 2008 to provide quality education to Scheduled Tribe (ST) children and to create opportunities for higher education and professional development. The scheme aims at the all-round development of tribal students by combining academic excellence with skill development and exposure to diverse professional sectors. EMRS schools are designed not only to focus on academic growth but also to ensure holistic development, enabling tribal students to excel in all walks of life.

In Mizoram, EMRSs are managed and administered by the Mizoram EMRS Society under the guidance and support of the National Education Society for Tribal Students (NESTS) and the Ministry of Tribal Affairs. The schools cater to students from Classes VI to XII and aim to prevent dropouts caused by poverty or socio-economic hardship, while equipping students with the skills required to become self-reliant and professionally competent. The first EMRS was made functional at Lunglei in 2008.

Following the establishment of EMRS Lunglei in 2008, EMRS Serchhip was made functional in 2015. Subsequently, in 2020, four EMRSs at Ngopa, Lawngtlai, Chawngte, and Tuipang were made functional. Further, in 2024, five additional EMRSs became functional at Bilkhawthlir, Niawhtlang, Tlungvel, Tlangnuam, and Zawlnuam. At present, Mizoram has a total of 11 functional EMRS schools. In addition, NESTS has recently sanctioned six new EMRSs in the State, which are presently under construction.

All EMRS schools are affiliated with the Central Board of Secondary Education (CBSE) and follow a uniform syllabus, ensuring national-level academic standards and enabling students to compete effectively in higher education and competitive examinations across the country.

Apart from academic education, EMRS provides ample opportunities for holistic development through sports, cultural activities, fine arts, music and dance, creative writing, quizzes, and other competitive and co-curricular activities. Students are trained and encouraged to participate in state-level and national-level competitions, in which they have already achieved notable success.

EMRSs are fully residential institutions established exclusively for tribal children. All educational and residential expenses are borne by the institution. Students are provided free of cost with boarding and lodging, uniforms, textbooks, notebooks, stationery items, footwear, bedding, toiletries, medical care, nutritious meals, and other essential daily requirements. The residential environment ensures learning beyond classrooms and promotes discipline, social values, and overall personality development.

The presence of such quality educational institutions and comprehensive facilities within the State is a matter of great pride and immense value for Mizoram, contributing significantly to the educational and socio-economic empowerment of tribal communities.
